The Nuremberg Christkindlesmarkt

In the heart of the Old Town, the Nuremberg Christkindlesmarkt invites you to enjoy an incredible Christmas experience again this year as the scent of freshly-baked gingerbread, aromatic mulled wine and hearty grilled bratwurst drifts through the air.

The steeped-in-tradition market was first mentioned in a document in 1678, but its roots reach back to the time of the Reformation as one began to give children gifts at Christmas.

In the more than 160 lovingly decorated wooden booths with their typical red-and-white roofs, today you'll still find handmade Christmas decorations, hand-crafted gold-foil angels and prune men, unique designer pieces and many culinary specialties. Stroll through the festively-lit lanes of the market and enjoy the one-of-a-kind atmosphere that one can only experience in Nuremberg.

The Nuremberg Christkind

The Christkind is the symbol of Christmas in Nuremberg. With its blond curly hair, wearing a golden crown and gold-and-white gown, it traditionally opens its market with a prologue on the Friday before the first Sunday in Advent. Appearances at the Christkindlesmarkt, the Children's Christmas Market and the „Sternenhaus" are part of its regular schedule along with visits to charitable organizations. Nuremberg selects a new Christkind for this heavenly office every two years.

Festive Opening Ceremony
Nov 27, 2026, 5:30 pm

Meet the Nuremberg Christkind:
Dec 1 to Dec 23, 2026
every Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 2:30 pm at the Children's Christmas Market and at 3 pm at the Christkindlesmarkt.

The Christkind opens its Market

When the Nuremberg Christkind opens its market with the famous prologue, the main market square is transformed into a very special place. From the balcony of the Church of Our Lady, the Christkind joyfully proclaims the start of the Advent season – a spirited event that enchants visitors from near and far.

You men and women, who once yourselves were children,
You little ones, life's journey just beginning,
Each and all, who troubled tomorrow, are full of cheer today,
Pray listen to what Christkind has come to say!

Every year, four weeks before the time,
To decorate the Christmas tree, to celebrate the season,
Appears upon this square, your forebears knew it too,
What you here see, called Christkindlesmarkt by you,

This little town within the town, of wood and cloth made,
Whose short-lived splendor so fleeting seems to be,
And yet it is eternal. My market shall forever young remain.
As long as Nuremberg stands, and the memory of that market's fame.

For Nuremberg is both old and young at once,
The many features of its countenance beyond all count.
Here this noble square. But now adjoining it,
The tall buildings of today, the factories of the modern world
The new city of so much green. And yet, you men and women true
It will remain forever the Nuremberg that is you.

Now as the old year ends there comes the day,
When wishes can be made and presents given,
When the market shines forth far and wide,
With decorations, and crystal balls, and blessed Christmastide
This you may not forget, you men and women, heed my word,
He who has all needs nothing more,
There are the children of this world and poor,
Who know the best what giving's for.

You men and women, who once yourselves were children,
Be them again today, happy as children be,
And now the Christkind to its market calls,
And all who come are truly welcome.

Gold Foil Angels

It glitters and glistens, traditionally has no arms, is the quintessence of the Nuremberg Christkindlesmarkt and can be found here in all sizes – the Nuremberg gold foil angel.

According to legend, a Nuremberg doll maker made it for his sick daughter. An origin in the 16th century is more likely: At that time, the thinly beaten brass used to make them was called "Rauschgold", because of the whispering sound it made.

Since 1953, the three life-size gilded angels—Bärbel, Rosa, and Kunigunde—have been welcoming visitors to the Christkindlesmarkt from high above and are a popular photo subject. Bärbel can be found at the Fleischbrücke, Kunigunde on Plobenhofstraße, while Rosa points the way to the Sister Cities Market. The heads are made of wood, and the dresses, aprons, and crowns are made of metal.

Stylized and reinterpreted in a modern way, the Nuremberg Rauschgoldengel can also be found on postcards, mugs, or T-shirts, or presented in contemporary designs made of glass or ceramic.

Tipp: Find the stands selling prune men and "Rauschgoldengel" on the market map!

The World of the Prune Men

Zwetschgenmännle – the well loved figures made of prunes – have been sold at the Christkindlesmarkt for decades.

Making these figures is as time-consuming as it is labor-intensive. It can take an hour to craft a "Zwetschgenmännle" or "Zwetschgenweible." Wire is used as a supporting framework and is inserted into a birch wood disc.

Dried plums serve as the legs and arms, while figs form the belly. Walnuts are used for the head—preferably smooth ones, so it's easier to draw a face on them. Add a pointed hat, and there you have the "Nackerten," the traditional model of a Zwetschgenmännle.

More than 350 different figures are available. The figures are nine to 22 centimeters high and are an illustrious company on the shelves of the stalls where they're sold.

Sustainability at the Christkindlesmarkt

At the Nuremberg Christmas Market, selected initiatives in the areas of reusable items, energy and reuse are being implemented. In addition, some market stalls offer regional, certified organic under the EU organic label, or homemade products. A selection of these initiatives is described below.

- For beverages, there is a standardized reusable cup system at the participating booths. The cups can be returned at these booths. This eliminates the use of disposable cups in the beverage area.
- The Christmas lights at the Christkindlesmarkt are LED lights. They are powered by electricity from renewable sources.
- The market stalls are used for several years, regularly repaired, and reused. Some parts of the stalls have been in use for many decades.

Nuremberg Specialities

Nuremberg, like no other city in Germany, stands for culinary delicacies. While gingerbread is at its peak during the Christmas season, the finger-sized grilled sausages are eaten all year long. Equally worth trying is a crackling pork shoulder (Schäufele) with a dumpling (Kloß) or a Franconian carp (Karpfen). A glass of Franconian wine or a cool beer from a private Franconian owned brewery are an enjoyable pairing with the regional specialties.

But not only traditional Franconian cuisine finds its way to your plate in Nuremberg. Gourmet establishments and restaurants with star ratings treat their guests to innovative dishes and exceptional food combinations. Fresh products are the norm, mostly sourced from the local market gardens of Knoblauchsland. In restaurants and on the market, a wide range of vegetarian and vegan food is offered along with the best quality organic products.  No wonder, because Nuremberg is an organic metropolis.

A Little Treat with Big Flavor

The authentic Nuremberg Rostbratwurst is only seven to nine centimeters long and weighs 20 to 25 grams. Perhaps—or perhaps precisely because of this—it offers bratwurst fans a very special taste experience.

There are many legends surrounding why Nuremberg sausages are so small. One legend claims they are so small so that innkeepers could sell them through the keyholes of their inns even after closing time. Today, the size, weight, and recipe of the sausages are certified by the EU's "PGI" (Protected Geographical Indication) label. This label confirms that all sausages labeled as "Nuremberg grilled bratwursts" are produced within the city limits of Nuremberg according to the established.

You can enjoy Nuremberg bratwurst at the Christmas Market served as „Drei im Weggla" (three sausages in a bun) or in a Bratwurst Kitchen the traditional way: Grilled over a beechwood fire and served as 6, 8, 10 or 12 sausages on a pewter plate, traditionally enjoyed with a side dish of sauerkraut or potato salad, mustard or horseradish (Kren) and coarse ye bread.

Hot Tip: Mulled Wine

Nuremberg's location at the crossing of the most important medieval trading routes made it renowned as "The City of Spices".
Thanks to an imperial commission to "develop specialties", "spiced wine" – a wine mixed with various spices – was created and developed by patrician and merchant families. "Nuremberg Mulled Wine" became protected under EU law in the early 1990s.

The favorite among Christmas specialties is the blueberry mulled wine. It tastes particularly good because it is made of pure blueberry wine and the very best ingredients, including aniseed, cinnamon, cloves and other spices - the highlight of every visit to the Christkindlesmarkt during the Advent season.

Tasty and Decorative

It looks back on a long tradition and – like mulled wine – is indelibly linked with Christmas: Nuremberg gingerbread. Thanks to the trading links of its cosmopolitan merchants, the city developed early on into a gingerbread capital, for the gingerbread makers were continually supplied with almonds, cinnamon and other spices. The forest around Nuremberg also helped furnish an essential component – natural honey.

Since July 1, 1996, Nuremberg gingerbread has been protected throughout Europe as a "Protected Geographical Indication" (PGI) and is authorized to bear the EU seal. According to legend, "Elisenlebkuchen" are named after the beautiful daughter of a Nuremberg gingerbread baker and were—then as now—the guild's masterpieces. Gingerbread designated as "Elisenlebkuchen" must contain at least 25 percent nuts and may consist of no more than ten percent flour.

Nowadays, this specialty comes in both round and square shapes, with chocolate, a sugar glaze, or plain with almonds, and in a variety of flavors.

Be sure not to miss the Nuremberg anise-flavored cookie with an embossed design, also called a "Springerle" or "Reiterle". It is made of eggs, flour and fine sugar, and produced by pressing the dough into a mold. This delicious and decorative treat is usually hung on the Christmas tree and later eaten.

Enjoy Vegan

Tour 6

At the Nuremberg Christkindlesmarkt, vegans don't have to do without the Christmas classics! Almost every gingerbread and mulled wine stand now offers a vegan alternative. That means everyone who only eats plant-based foods can enjoy fresh Lebkuchen and warm mulled wine at the Christmas Market.

Our "Vegan Tour" leads you to the stands that have plant-based alternatives on offer.

90 Seconds for the Soul
Advent is a very special time: The air is filled with the scent of gingerbread and bratwurst, mulled wine and baked goods. Well-known songs and tunes can be heard everywhere. People prepare themselves for Christmas. And in all of the bustle there's time for reflection and quiet moments...

These are the precious moments at the end of the year that prepare the way for a journey into one's self and a time of solitude... Nuremberg's Words for Advent are meant to inspire you: 90 seconds which bring the message and peace of Advent.

From Nov 28 to Dec 23, 2026, at 5:30 pm on the stage of the Christkindlesmarkt, representatives from the churches of Nuremberg will help you prepare for the upcoming celebration of Christmas with inspiration and thoughts, tales and stories.

On Christmas Eve, Dec 24 at 12 noon, an Ecumenical Celebration with Nuremberg's Catholic and Lutheran city deans and the Nuremberg Christkind will take place.
