

What our festival organizers say

The Nuremberg festival organizers have made the following audio clips available for you to use freely. We kindly ask you not to publish them in modified form—you are welcome to make cuts or use individual excerpts.

Matt Schwarz, Rock im Park

Photo: © Rock im Park

“Rock im Park has been based in Nuremberg since 1997. The urban location, perfect transport links, and green backdrop around Dutzendteich lake and Luitpoldhain public park create a festival experience that is unrivalled in Germany. Rock im Park offers real comfort and is the festival of short distances. It combines three days of music and a break from everyday life in the middle of the city. There is no other festival like it in Germany.”

Anja Common, st. katharina open air

Photo: © Kristof Göttling

„The historic walls of the Katharinenruine give every concert a unique flair - combined with the special acoustics, great musicians and the open-air feeling, every evening is an unforgettable experience.“

Moritz Puschke, Musikfest ION

Photo: © Kristof Göttling

„The Musicfest ION offers a bold and diverse programme, realised with charismatic stars from classical music, pop and jazz. Nuremberg's churches are extraordinary sound spaces - this is where the pinnacle of church music meets iconic songs and sensational world premieres. Our concerts set the soul vibrating.“

Maike Renner, Klassik Open Air

Photo: © Kristof Göttling

„The Klassik Open Air is a concert experience for everyone - in the open air, with a picnic blanket and no dress code. A place where thousands of people can experience and celebrate music together.“

Rainer Pirzkall, Bardentreffen

Photo: © Kristof Göttling

„Whether international acts on the stages or individual street music - for three days, the Bardentreffen turns Nuremberg into a meeting place for world music, open-mindedness and melodious stories from all over the world.“

David Lodhi und Thomas Wurm, Nürnberg Pop Festival

Photo: © Kristof Göttling

„Nürnberg Pop is more than just a festival - it is a statement for musical diversity and also a driving force for the local scene. This is where well-known acts meet new talent, concert experiences meet cultural debate.“

Frank Wuppinger, NUEJAZZ Festival

Photo: © Kristof Göttling

„With free concerts, contributions from students at the University of Music and the Faculty of Design and a growing children's programme, the NUEJAZZ festival creates a variety of access points. The weekly 'Groove Gathering' session at AEG - organised by Nürnberger Jazzmusiker e.V. - is just as much a part of this as the stage for young jazz talents from Nuremberg. NUEJAZZ thus sends a strong signal for cultural participation in the City of Human Rights.“

Are you looking for images for your reporting?
In our media library, you will find a selection of images from music festivals in Nuremberg.

To the media library

